The Letterland series is such a great basis for learning the alphabet. My three year old granddaughter picked up the whole alphabet in a very short space of time and we have now moved on to this next book which deals with the different sounds made when two letters sit next to each other. This ingenious sequel to the best-selling ABC Book introduces the concept of letters coming together in a words to make new sounds. Featuring 22 essential digraphs with plenty of things to find containing the target digraph sound, young learners will develop their phonics skills quickly.
