Chegg, Inc. is an American education technology company based in Santa Clara, California that offers online textbook rentals (both physical and digital), as well as homework help, online tutoring, and scholarship and internship matching. Chegg's core offerings target students attending high school and college in the United States. Book Rental is a system where textbooks for courses numbered 100-499 are furnished to undergraduate students on a rental basis. The textbook rental program is an economical alternative to students, because most other universities make you buy every textbook. The new tax law gives a 20% Section 199A rental property deduction to real estate investors but only if their activity qualifies as a trade or business. The textbook market is in a period of rapid change. In recent years, publishers have been squeezed by the used-book and textbook-rental markets, as well as the growth of freely available course ..., Textbook Rental Business Plan.
